

Hansgrohe Oceania Terms of Warranty

In addition to the warranties implied by the applicable Consumer Laws in Australia, all Hansgrohe products purchased after August 1st 2010, carry the following special extended warranties depending on domestic or commercial use:

Domestic Warranty 15 Years

First 10 Years: Under special extended warranty: All products and parts including hoses, chrome surfaces and replacement parts, carry a warranty against any manufacturing defect or design fault. The importer / distributor will provide labour to either rectify any defect or fault by repairing or replacing the product or part supplied by Hansgrohe.

11 Years - 15 Years: Under special warranty: All surfaces, cartridges, head parts and thermo elements against any manufacturing defect or design fault. Labour costs and any other costs including packaging or freight charges will be the customer's responsibility.

Commercial Warranty up to 10 Years

Hansgrohe 10 Year Special Commercial Warranty: All Hansgrohe products used for commercial purposes and purchased after August 1st, 2010 have, subject to the conditions below, the following warranties:

First 5 Years - Commercial Special Warranty including Light Commercial Special Warranty (Commercial is all use other than for normal residential domestic purposes, including use in non-business settings such as in public buildings, schools, and sports centers) relates to all products and parts including hoses, chrome surfaces and replacement parts, against any manufacturing defect or design fault. The importer / distributor will provide labour to either rectify any defect or fault by repairing or replacing the product or part supplied by Hansgrohe.

6 Years - 10 Years - Light Commercial Special Warranty: (Light Commercial is Commercial use where the frequency of use is similar to residential domestic use e.g. private bathrooms in motels, hotels, retirement villages, hospitals), relates to all products and parts including hoses, chrome surfaces and replacement parts, against any manufacturing defect or design fault. Labour costs and any other costs including packaging or freight charges will be the customer's responsibility.

Exceptions to the above Warranty Periods:

25 years' warranty on iBox Universal (article 01800180) against manufacturing defects.

5 years' warranty on all electronic taps and mixers against manufacturing defects (battery excluded from warranty).

5 years' warranty on powder coated surfaces against manufacturing defects.

Conditions & Limitation of Liability and Warranty:

The warranty applies to purchases in Australia & New Zealand from 01/08/2010. It applies only to use in Australia & New Zealand for normal residential domestic purposes. Proof of purchase is required e.g. the original invoice. The warranty periods as stated above apply from date of purchase, with a 15 year maximum warranty period regardless of any interim rectification. The warranty is personal to the first end user and is not transferable. Products and parts must be installed and used according to Hansgrohe's Assembly Instructions and within applicable pressure guidelines. A line strainer must be installed to the water supply. The water supply pipes must be flushed prior to connection of the tailpipes. A pressure limiting valve must be installed to the water supply and set as outlined in Hansgrohe's Assembly Instructions. Acidic, citrus or alkaline cleaners and cleaners with scouring additives must not be used. Unapproved product modifications will void special extended warranty. Special extended warranty does not apply to the effects of hard water. It does not apply to products and parts deliberately or accidentally scratched, blemished, damaged or otherwise misused.

On site labour warranty is limited to greater metropolitan areas only. Trip costs may be applicable for locations outside these areas.
