sBox conquers the family bathroom

Discover an unbeatable showering experience with hansgrohe's latest technical innovation

The integrated sBox

Introducing hansgrohe's sBox, a practical yet appealing roll-up hose system for the bathroom. Providing greater convenience, safety and comfort, the sBox represents the next step in the development of concealed hose systems.

Allowing the hand shower to be extended and replaced smoothly and safely, sBox delivers an easier, unbeatable showering experience. Extending to a total length of 1.4 metres, 30 percent further than existing hoses, sBox marries form with function to ensure ultimate comfort.

Making light work of bathroom cleaning and the washing of young children or pets, this integrated system can be affixed to the bath itself or within the tile rim, providing the rim is wider than 71mm. This creates more space within the tub whilst the compact, retractable hidden system removes the eyesore of tangled hoses to give a minimalist, clean aesthetic. The sBox boasts ease of use, requiring 50 percent less pulling and 60 percent less holding force than with previous systems. sBox is available in a number of finishes and two classic shapes, rectangle or oval.
